Overview

Drew D. Krause is an experienced civil litigation attorney focusing his practice on governmental and education law. He brings an impressive range of expertise to Chasan Lamparello Mallon & Cappuzzo, PC, combining his experience in educational administration with more than two decades of legal practice in complex commercial matters, business disputes, general litigation, personal injury defense, and products liability. Prior to joining the Firm, Drew worked for several respected New Jersey firms and served as the principal of Ridge High School in the Bernards Township School District and Vernon Township High School in the Vernon Township School District. Drew obtained his Bachelor's degree from Columbia University in 1988 and his Juris Doctorate from Seton Hall University School of Law in 1992. While at Seton Hall Law School, Drew served as the student director of the Juvenile Justice Clinic and was a member of the Seton Hall Journal of Sports and Entertainment Law. After graduating from law school, Drew clerked for the Honorable Jerome B. Simandle, United States District Court for the District of New Jersey. Drew also holds a Master of Arts in Teaching from Montclair State University (2002) and a Master of Science in Educational Leadership from Walden University (2007).
